Summary

Memorandum on Action Tether for next steps.

Suggested next steps were sometimes generic advice with no source.

Action Tether keeps a suggested action only when that action sentence appears in a cited source.

Generic advice such as monitor the situation was removed unless a source used that instruction.

Operator decision: Show only sourced actions, and request an analyst-written step when a high-severity risk has none..

Evidence

Method note: Thirty briefs were checked for actions that did not occur in the cited pages.

Reported result: Unsourced actions fell from 22 instances to 0 instances after the tether was applied.

Limits of the evidence: The tether cannot propose a novel action that is reasonable but unstated.

Open questions: Should analysts be able to pin an unstated action and have it stored as their own note? Risk review: Severity medium: Dropping every unstated action can leave a severe risk with no next step in the brief.

Recommended action: If a high-severity risk has no sourced action, ask the analyst to supply one explicitly..
